Agreement for Receiving Course Lecture Materials

To ensure the use of course lecture materials (may include copies of course notes, overheads, power point presentations, etc) are for the sole use of an eligible student, promote academic integrity and protect instructor's potential copyright, instructors have the right to require qualified students with disabilities to sign this agreement. Eligibility for receiving course lecture materials is verified via a student's Accommodation Letter.

- The student has been approved for the accommodation to receive course lecture materials for their personal study use only, and no other purpose.
- Course materials may not be shared with any other person, database or resource and may not be used to profit financially from their content.
- All materials must be deleted or returned (as designated by instructor) upon completion of this course.
- Violation of this agreement may result in the withdrawal of the authorization to receive lecture materials in this course and may result in violation and sanctions related to the Code of Student Conduct.
